Army Institute of Education, Greater Noida warmly welcomed the seventeenth batch of B.Ed on 13th August ,2019. Since its inception, the Institute has been striving to keep pace with the ever-changing and evolving system of Education.

Ms. Kriti Guleria, Assistant Professor, AIE in her welcome note extended a warm welcome to every student who aspired to become a teacher and assured that the two-year journey would unravel many facets of one's own personality still unknown to many.

The programme began with the lamp lighting and seeking blessings of the deity of wisdom and knowledge, Goddess Saraswati.

Dr. Tania Gupta, Principal AIE, in her welcome address greeted the students with open arms to one of the premier 12 Professional Education Colleges run by Army Welfare Education Society (AWES). She emphasized that Army Institute of Education, AIE, is the only Institute under the AWES umbrella that offers quality and affordable Pre-Service Teacher education to the wards of serving/retired personnel and also to the wives and widows of personnel from the Indian Army. She shared a detailed insight of the Institute with a focus on professional development through nationally accredited programs and dedicated, inspiring faculty. She also made them aware of the facilities provided, the discipline, the decorum and rules and regulations. She spoke of the laurels achieved by the precious batches and encouraged them to take the academics seriously and strive to win 'The Chief of Army Staff(COAS) All Round Best Student Rolling Trophy' which carries a handsome monetary reward as an incentive, certificate and a rolling trophy. A special mention to the recently introduced B.Ed Spl Education( as approved by the RCI) was also given. For the smooth maiden run of this program, ICT Resource Centres, Special Education Resource Centre and a well-stocked Library have been instituted.

This was followed by an interactive session with Dr. Pratibha A Singh, who is a renowned Psychologist and Director at Kasturba Gandhi Institute of Behavioural Medicine. She is a recognised Clinical Psychologist by Rehabilitation Council of India (RCI) and has years of experience to her credit in her field of Human Behaviour and Allied Sciences. Keeping abreast with the changing trends in Education, she enlightened the teaching fraternity on the topic, 'On Evolving to become a Teacher'. She discussed about issues varying from adjustment problems, overcoming distress in relationships, handling despair to managing in the new environment. Her expertise in this area was of immense importance considering the shelf life of emotions in today's generation.

Dr. Jyoti Tiwari, shared her views on Anti Ragging, which now has become a punishable offence. She emphasized on how detrimental can ragging be to one's wellbeing in college and should not be practiced at all. The University has made it mandatory to sign an undertaking both by the parents' and the students to abstain from this. A short video on Anti-Ragging was also played to apprise students about their rights and whom to approach in case they face incident of ragging in the institution.

The students were then asked to introduce themselves and were involved in an ice breaking session conducted by Ms. Nisha Singh.
