GUEST LECTURE BY MR. RAJESH MAKOL, ASST. PROF, GIBS, DELHI

Army Institute of Education (AIE), Greater Noida organized a guest lecture of the Course Code BED107 on the topic "Identifying student's Attitude, Aptitude and Interests during school life" by Mr. Rajesh Makol, Asst. Prof, GIBS, Delhi on 22-01-2022 from 1:30pm to 2:30pm. With the permission of honourable Principal Dr. Abhilasha Gautam, Dr. Jyoti Tiwari started the session and introduced the guest of the day by highlighting his achievements in the field of education. The objective of the session was to acquaint the students with the ways of identifying student's attitude and understand their interests during the school life.

Resource person started the session by stating that "It's not easy to be a teacher". He highlighted the role of a teacher in a student's school life. He said that a student listens more to a teacher than anyone else and to explain that he quoted an example. It was an interactive session as Sir was taking out time in between his presentation to interact with the students. He also talked about the negative influence of internet on students these days and addressed the issue of anxiety, disrespectful behaviour and personality disorder. He even highlighted the importance of a good study material, self-learning practice and practical learning. Towards the end of the session students asked their doubts and the event was concluded by vote of thanks by Dr. Jyoti Tiwari, Course In-charge, BED107. All the 64 students of BED Batch 2021-23 along with faculty members participated in this workshop. Total number of participants were 75 and they all appreciated the lecture a lot and found it useful and relevant.
