Report of Rangoli Competition held on 18 March 2024 Under ULLAS 2024

The Inter-House Rangoli Competition, organized by the Art & Craft Club as part of ULLAS 2024, celebrated the richness of Indian knowledge systems through the vibrant and traditional art form of Rangoli. Held at the Army Institute of Education in Greater NOIDA on 18 March 2024. Objective to organized this event was to provide an opportunity for students to showcase their creativity, cultural appreciation, and teamwork.

The competition saw enthusiastic participation from various houses within the institute, with students showcasing their artistic talents and teamwork skills. Each house brought forth a unique perspective on the theme "Indian Knowledge System" through their Rangoli designs, reflecting the diversity and depth of India's intellectual heritage.

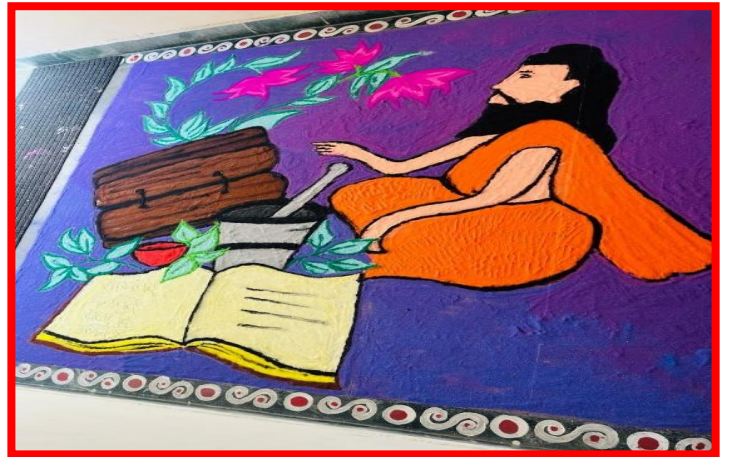

The theme "Indian Knowledge System" was chosen to honour the profound legacy of knowledge, wisdom, and innovation that has been integral to Indian civilization for millennia. Participants were encouraged to explore diverse aspects of India's intellectual heritage, including ancient texts, scientific discoveries, philosophical insights, and traditional practices. The guidelines emphasized creativity, originality, and adherence to traditional Rangoli techniques. Mr Krishna Vinay, Art Director, Curator, Designer Fine Artist, Vini Shree Kala Vatika, Delhi and Ms Shalini Rajvanshi were the judges of the event. Rangolies were judged on the basis of Colour Combination, Neatness, creativity and design based on the theme.
